

Proclamation

by

Ernie Fletcher
Governor

of the

Commonwealth of Kentucky

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, Kentuckians have always felt a strong connection to their communities and homes in the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, Their sense of place is expressed in the unique customs, music, literature, folkways, arts and crafts, and other cultural traditions of Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, Numerous archives, special collections, libraries, and other repositories across the state provide tangible evidence of that feeling of place and community through land records, diaries, letters, recordings, manuscripts and other elements of a rich documentary heritage; and

WHEREAS, Citizens of the Commonwealth rely on the work of archivists and others who care for these resources to preserve and make them available for present and future generations;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ERNIE FLETCHER, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim October 9-15, 2005, as

KENTUCKY ARCHIVES WEEK

in recognition of those who care for our documentary heritage in small and large archival repositories throughout the Commonwealth, and encourage all citizens to learn more about our archives.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Frankfort this 26th day of September, in the year of Our Lord Two Thousand Five and in the 214th year of the Commonwealth.
